Pensacola's Scouts

Recently, I was eating in Decatur, Texas, with a friend and two 15 year-old girls. A charter bus drove up and unloaded hungry, teenage Boy Scouts. They made a mad dash to McDonald's, Whataburger and Golden Wok (where I was). The teenage girls at my table were goggle-eyed at the clean-cut, well-mannered guys in uniform.

I asked where was home. A Boy Scout replied, "We're from Pensacola, Florida!" They were attending Sid Richardson, Scout Ranch. Congratulations on your troops' positive representation.
